

DEPUTY MINISTER STELLA NDABENI INTERACTS WITH COMMUNITY MEDIA OF EAST LONDON

Writes Tabita Ngqunge -GCIS

Deputy Minister Stella Ndabeni-Abrahams donated 15 computers to Mngqesha Great Place after 20 women had computer literacy training as part of rural women empowerment to be able to access information and advance technologically in their remote area. This initiative came as part of closing the Women's Month celebrations. The ceremony was graced by other two Deputy Ministers of Police, Ms Makhotso Maggie Soty and of Water and Sanitation, Ms Pamela Tshwete.

As part of ensuring diverse engagements by the Deputy Minister, a Question & Answer interactive session with community media of the Buffalo City Metropolitan Municipality was done where she answered questions related to the country's growth and development.

Deputy Minister Stella Ndabeni Abrahams & EC Community media of BCMM (print& electronic)

Provincial Director Mr Ndelelantle Pinyana

The department sees and values the community media's mandate of informing citizens about things that occur in their regions by offering an alternative view from that of the mainstream media and building social cohesion.

Deputy Minister said she will embark on a tour to visit community media to assess their status and sustainability. The department is willing, at all times, to assist community media.