The second National Imbizo Focus Week of the current administration took place from 7 to 12 April 2015 under government's theme "Together we move South Africa forward".

The focus week saw political principals from all three spheres of government engaging with community members and other stakeholders across the country.

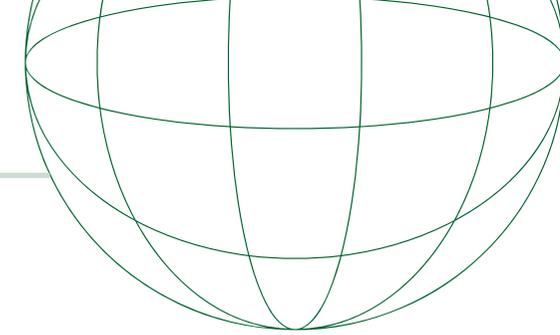

The main purpose of these engagements was to unpack President Jacob Zuma's State of the Nation Address of 12 February 2015 and to promote active citizenry in line with the National Development Plan. Below are some of the Imbizo events that took place:

Communities get electricity connection

By Nonhlanhla Sithole: GCIS, KwaZulu-Natal

The Deputy Minister of Energy, Thembisile Majola, visited Ulundi on 11 April as part of the National Imbizo Focus Week. The objective of the visit was to conduct the official switch-on of Gqokli village as part of government's service delivery programme. In the last financial year, 1 128 households were electrified in Gqokli.

Mfundo Madela said:

"I am happy because I will be able to use electrical appliances. Life is getting better because we now have electricity."

Senzo Hlengwa said:

"I am glad that I am going to use a heater to warm myself this winter. We are going to use proper cooking appliances such as electric stoves."

Deputy Minister Majola in one of the households that got electricity connection.

Ayanda and Sanelisiwe Buthelezi said:

"Electricity is an important part of community development as it is going to create job opportunities. We will no longer go to the bushes to collect wood. We will have more time to do other things."

Pretty Nkwanyana said:

"Life was very difficult for us without electricity. Things are better now. We are happy about having access to electricity."
