

3.13 Incorrect use of the departmental logo

	Do not use any colours other than the ones specified in these guidelines. Use only the colour chosen by the department, i.e.: orange or green or brown or black.
	No changes may be made to the font type or size. The font must always be Gill Sans Regular in lower case. The name must always be in the colour chosen by the department.
	No changes may be made to the order of the national Coat of Arms and the department's naming structure. The national Coat of Arms must always be on the left-hand side with the descriptors on the right.
	The logo may not be overlapped or blended with other visual objects, except for security purposes on items such as the South African passport.
	No rotation, skewing or distortion may be made to the logo. Always follow the rules for the control grid.
	The full colour version of the national Coat of Arms may not be used as a watermark.
