The Department of Arts and Culture (DAC) aims to contribute to sustainable economic development and enhance job creation by preserving, protecting and developing South African arts, culture and heritage to sustain a socially cohesive and democratic nation. The department is mandated to:

- develop and promote arts and culture in South Africa, and mainstream its role in social development
- develop and promote the official languages of South Africa, and enhance the linguistic diversity of the country
- improve economic and other development opportunities for South African arts and culture nationally and globally through mutually beneficial partnerships to ensure the sustainability of the sector
- develop and monitor the implementation of policy, legislation and strategic direction for the identification, conservation and promotion of cultural heritage. The DAC aims to increase interactions across all races, foster constitutional values, and encourage equal opportunities, inclusion and redress.

Legislation and policies
The DAC derives its mandate from the following legislation:

National symbols
Animal: Springbok (Antidorcas marsupialis)
The springbok’s common name is derived from its characteristic jumping display. It is the only southern African gazelle and is fairly widespread in open, dry bush, grasslands or riverbeds near water. It is also the emblem of South Africa’s national rugby team, which bears its name.

Bird: Blue crane (Anthropoides paradisaea)
This elegant crane with its silvery blue plumage is endemic to southern Africa, with more than 99% of the population within South Africa’s borders.

Fish: Galjoen (Coracinus capensis)
The galjoen is found only along the South African coast and is a familiar sight to every angler. It keeps to mostly shallow water and is often found in rough surf and sometimes right next to the shore.

Flower: King protea (Protea cynaroides)
This striking protea is found in the south-western and southern areas of the Western Cape. It derives its scientific name
The National Anthem

South Africa’s national anthem is a combined version of ‘Nkosi Sikelel’iAfrika’ and ‘The Call of South Africa’ (Die Stem van Suid-Afrika).

Nkosi Sikelel’iAfrika was composed by Methodist mission schoolteacher, Enoch Sontonga, in 1897. The words of the poem are in the Khoisan language of the /Xam people, and means “diverse people unite” or “people who are different joining together”.

The Call of South Africa (Die Stem van Suid-Afrika) was composed by Methodist mission schoolteacher, Enoch Sontonga, in 1897. The words of the poem are in the Khoisan language of the /Xam people, and means “diverse people unite” or “people who are different joining together”.

The motto of the coat of arms – !ke e:/xarra//ke – is in the Khoisan language of the /Xam people, and means “diverse people unite” or “people who are different joining together”.

Within the shield are images of the Khoisan people, the first inhabitants of the land. The figures are derived from images on the Linton Stone, a world-famous example of South African rock art. The motto of the coat of arms – !ke e:/xarra//ke – is in the Khoisan language of the /Xam people, and means “diverse people unite” or “people who are different joining together”.

Let us live and strive for freedom,
in South Africa our land.

When the flag is displayed horizontally, the hoist should be to the left of the viewer and the red band at the top. When the flag is displayed next to or behind the speaker at a meeting, it must be placed to the speaker’s right. When it is placed elsewhere in the meeting place, it should be to the right of the audience.

National Coat of Arms

South Africa’s Coat of Arms, the highest visual symbol of the State, was launched and used for the first time on Freedom Day, 27 April 1994. The design and colours are a synopsis of the principal elements of the country’s flag history.

It is the only six-coloured national flag in the world. The central design of the flag, beginning at the flag pole in a “V” form and flowing into a single horizontal band to the outer edge of the fly, can be interpreted as the convergence of diverse elements within South African society, taking the road ahead in unity.

The design of the national flag is one of the most recognised in the world. It was launched and used for the first time on Freedom Day, 27 April 1994. The design and colours are a synopsis of the principal elements of the country’s flag history.

The shield is composed of three parts. It contains within its central design of the flag, beginning at the flag pole in a “V” form and flowing into a single horizontal band to the outer edge of the fly, can be interpreted as the convergence of diverse elements within South African society, taking the road ahead in unity.

Let us live and strive for freedom,
in South Africa our land.

When the flag is displayed vertically against a wall, the red band should be to the left of the viewer, with the hoist or the cord seam at the top.

When displayed horizontally, the hoist should be to the left of the viewer and the red band at the top. When the flag is displayed next to or behind the speaker at a meeting, it must be placed to the speaker’s right. When it is placed elsewhere in the meeting place, it should be to the right of the audience.

Within the shield are images of the Khoisan people, the first inhabitants of the land. The figures are derived from images on the Linton Stone, a world-famous example of South African rock art. The motto of the coat of arms – !ke e:/xarra//ke – is in the Khoisan language of the /Xam people, and means “diverse people unite” or “people who are different joining together”.

The National Order of the Baobab

The Order of the Baobab

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

• Professor Helen Rees (Order of the British Empire (OBE)): For her excellent contribution to the field of medical science and research. Her work gives hope to communities that have been affected by the scourge of HIV and AIDS.

• Marina Nompinti Maponya (Posthumous): For her exceptional contribution to the field of entrepreneurship at a time when economic development for the majority was disallowed by the law. Her selfless giving to poor communities remains her legacy.

• The Order of Luthuli

The Order of Luthuli

The Order was bestowed on:

• Pravin Gordhan (Posthumous): For his exceptional contribution to the fight for the liberation of the people of South Africa. He was exiled, where he devoted his military skills to fight the apartheid regime.

• Peter Sello Motau aka Paul Dikeledi (Posthumous): For his gallant fight against the oppression of the majority of South Africans during apartheid. He spoke truth to power without fear or favour.

The National Order of Mapungubwe

The Order of Mapungubwe

The Order was bestowed in gold on:

• Zwelakhe Sisulu (Posthumous): For his exceptional contribution to quality journalism; and as a reporter exposing the cruelties of apartheid and encouraging unity among the people of different political persuasions to fight for liberation.

• Sam Ntuli (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution in the field of peace-building during a particularly violent and delicate time in the history of the liberation struggle. He paid the ultimate price for his dedication to peace.

• Major General Jackie Refiloe Sedibe: For her excellent contribution and courage in joining Umkhonto we Sizwe. She fought for the liberation and to ensure that all South Africans live as equals.

The National Order of Mendi for Bravery

The Order of Mendi for Bravery

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

• Hermanus Gabriel Loots aka James Stuart (Posthumous): For his gallant fight against the oppression of the majority of South Africans during apartheid. He placed his life in constant danger to free all who lived in South Africa. His worked with international anti-apartheid organisations and pushed back against the tyranny of racism.

• Ulysses Modise (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the struggle for the liberation of the people of South Africa. He was exiled, where he devoted his military skills to fight the apartheid regime.

• Peter Sello Motau aka Paul Dikeledi (Posthumous): For his gallant contribution to the liberation struggle. His selfless sacrifice, bravery and thirst for freedom led to democracy at the cost of his own life.

• Wilson Ndalsio Boy Ngcayiya aka Bogart Soze (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the fight for the liberation of this country. He placed his life in constant danger to free South Africa from apartheid.

• Joseph “Mpizi” Nduli (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the fight for the liberation of the people of South Africa. His steadfast belief in the equality of all citizens inspired him to fight for democracy.

• Sam Ntuli (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution in the field of peace-building during a particularly violent and delicate time in the history of the liberation struggle. He paid the ultimate price for his dedication to peace.

• Major General Jackie Refiloe Sedibe: For her excellent contribution and courage in joining Umkhonto we Sizwe. She fought for the liberation and to ensure that all South Africans live as equals.

The National Order of the Companions of OR Tambo

The Order of the Companions of OR Tambo

The Order was bestowed in gold on:

• Zwelakhe Sisulu (Posthumous): For his exceptional contribution to the fight for the liberation of the people of South Africa. He was exiled, where he devoted his military skills to fight the apartheid regime.

• Peter Sello Motau aka Paul Dikeledi (Posthumous): For his gallant fight against the oppression of the majority of South Africans during apartheid. He placed his life in constant danger to free all who lived in South Africa. His worked with international anti-apartheid organisations and pushed back against the tyranny of racism.

• Ulysses Modise (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the struggle for the liberation of the people of South Africa. He was exiled, where he devoted his military skills to fight the apartheid regime.

• Peter Sello Motau aka Paul Dikeledi (Posthumous): For his gallant contribution to the liberation struggle. His selfless sacrifice, bravery and thirst for freedom led to democracy at the cost of his own life.

• Wilson Ndalsio Boy Ngcayiya aka Bogart Soze (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the fight for the liberation of this country. He placed his life in constant danger to free South Africa from apartheid.

• Joseph “Mpizi” Nduli (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the fight for the liberation of the people of South Africa. His steadfast belief in the equality of all citizens inspired him to fight for democracy.

• Sam Ntuli (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution in the field of peace-building during a particularly violent and delicate time in the history of the liberation struggle. He paid the ultimate price for his dedication to peace.

• Major General Jackie Refiloe Sedibe: For her excellent contribution and courage in joining Umkhonto we Sizwe. She fought for the liberation and to ensure that all South Africans live as equals.

The National Order of the Baobab

The Order of the Baobab

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

• Professor Helen Rees (Order of the British Empire (OBE)): For her excellent contribution to the field of medical science and research. Her work gives hope to communities that have been affected by the scourge of HIV and AIDS.

• Marina Nompinti Maponya (Posthumous): For her exceptional contribution to the field of entrepreneurship at a time when economic development for the majority was disallowed by the law. Her selfless giving to poor communities remains her legacy.

The National Order of Mendi for Bravery

The Order of Mendi for Bravery

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

• Hermanus Gabriel Loots aka James Stuart (Posthumous): For his gallant fight against the oppression of the majority of South Africans during apartheid. He placed his life in constant danger to free all who lived in South Africa. His worked with international anti-apartheid organisations and pushed back against the tyranny of racism.

• Ulysses Modise (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the struggle for the liberation of the people of South Africa. He was exiled, where he devoted his military skills to fight the apartheid regime.

• Peter Sello Motau aka Paul Dikeledi (Posthumous): For his gallant contribution to the liberation struggle. His selfless sacrifice, bravery and thirst for freedom led to democracy at the cost of his own life.

• Wilson Ndalsio Boy Ngcayiya aka Bogart Soze (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the fight for the liberation of this country. He placed his life in constant danger to free South Africa from apartheid.

• Joseph “Mpizi” Nduli (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the fight for the liberation of the people of South Africa. His steadfast belief in the equality of all citizens inspired him to fight for democracy.

• Sam Ntuli (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution in the field of peace-building during a particularly violent and delicate time in the history of the liberation struggle. He paid the ultimate price for his dedication to peace.

• Major General Jackie Refiloe Sedibe: For her excellent contribution and courage in joining Umkhonto we Sizwe. She fought for the liberation and to ensure that all South Africans live as equals.
National Orders and Symbols

- National bird: Blue crane
- National fish: Galjoen
- National tree: Real yellowwood
- National flower: King protea

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in bronze on:

- Laurika Rauch: For her outstanding contribution in the field of music and raising awareness on political injustices through music. She deployed her artistic talents to highlight the injustices and tyranny of the apartheid rule.

Order of Luthuli

The Order was bestowed in bronze on:

- Suliman "Baba" Motleleka (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the liberation struggle and fighting apartheid. He gave his life for the liberation of the people of South Africa.
- Msizi Harrison Dube (Posthumous): For his excellent contribution to the struggle for liberation and fighting apartheid.
- Reverend Doctor Simon Gqubule: For his excellent contribution to the liberation struggle and fighting apartheid. His inherent belief in equality prompted him to join the United Democratic Front to speak against apartheid.

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Thomas Hasani Chauke: For his excellent contribution to the development and promotion of Xitsonga traditional music in the country. His prolific song-writing and performances have put Xitsonga music in the forefront.

Order of Luthuli

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Major General Peter Lesego Tshikare (Posthumous): For his selfless contribution to the struggle for the liberation of the people of South Africa. He joined the military wing of the African National Congress to fight apartheid.

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Sylvia "Magogo" Glasser: For her excellent contribution to the field of dance and transference of skills to the young people from all racial backgrounds, fostering social cohesion in the time of apartheid.

Order of Luthuli

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Sathyandranath Ragunanan Maharaj: For his excellent contribution in the fight against the oppression of the people of South Africa. His was exiled yet still fought for the freedom of all South Africans.
- Mary Thipe (Posthumous): For her excellent contribution to the liberation struggle and the fight for social justice. Her bravery and bold stance against the brutality of the security branch remains legendary in the Chesterville area in Durban.

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in gold on:

- The Order was bestowed in gold on:

Order of the Companions of OR Tambo

The Order was bestowed in gold on:

- President Michelle Bachelet Jeria (Chile): For her exceptional contribution to the fight for democracy on the global stage. She was imbued with a deep sense of justice and the courage of her convictions, which drove her from Chile to exile.

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in gold on:

- Nouredine Djoudi (Algeria): For his support of the South African liberation movement during the hard times of oppression. He stood in firm solidarity with the stalwarts of the liberation struggle and sacrificed to support democracy.

Order of Luthuli

The Order was bestowed in gold on:

- Professor Rosina Mamokgethi Phakeng: For her excellent contribution in the field of science and representing South Africa on the international stage through her outstanding research work.

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Benedict Wallet Vilakazi (Posthumous): For his exceptional contribution to the field of literature in indigenous languages and the preservation of isiZulu culture.

Order of Luthuli

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Amy Rietstein Thornton: For her excellent contribution and unflinching commitment to the struggle for liberation and equality for all South Africans.

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Cleopas Madoda Nsibande (Posthumous): For his exceptional contribution to fighting for the rights of workers. He steadfastly challenged unjust labour laws through efficient organisation and galvanising workers to take a stand for their rights.

Order of the Companions of OR Tambo

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Maria Petronella Adriana Kint (The Netherlands): For her excellent contribution to the liberation movement and her courage to challenge policies that violated human rights.

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in gold on:

- President Jeria (Chile): For her exceptional contribution to the fight for democracy on the global stage. She was imbued with a deep sense of justice and the courage of her convictions, which drove her from Chile to exile.

Order of Luthuli

The Order was bestowed in gold on:

- Mary Thipe (Posthumous): For her excellent contribution to the liberation struggle and the fight for social justice. Her bravery and bold stance against the brutality of the security branch remains legendary in the Chesterville area in Durban.

Order of Ikhamanga

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- Cleopas Madoda Nsibande (Posthumous): For his exceptional contribution to fighting for the rights of workers. He steadfastly challenged unjust labour laws through efficient organisation and galvanising workers to take a stand for their rights.

Order of the Companions of OR Tambo

The Order was bestowed in silver on:

- President Jeria (Chile): For her exceptional contribution to the fight for democracy on the global stage. She was imbued with a deep sense of justice and the courage of her convictions, which drove her from Chile to exile.

Languages

South Africa is a multilingual country. The country’s Constitution guarantees equal status to 11 official languages to cater for the country’s diverse people and their cultures. These are: English, isiNdebele, isiXhosa, isiZulu, Afrikaans, Sotho, Setswana, SiSwati, Tshivenda and Xitsonga.

Other languages used in South Africa include the Khoi,Nama and San languages, Sign Language, Arabic, German, French, Greek, Gujarati, Hebrew, Hindi, Portuguese, Sanskrit, Tamil, Telugu and Urdu.

South Africa has various structures and institutions that support the preservation and development of languages.

Role players

National Heritage Council

The NHC of South Africa is a statutory body that is responsible for the preservation of the country’s heritage. Since its inception in February 2004, it has managed to place heritage as a priority for nation-building and national identity.

The NHC focuses on policy development for the sector to meet its transformation goals, enhance public awareness and education, and increase knowledge production in heritage.
subjects that were previously neglected. It also makes funding available to projects that present heritage as a socio-economic resource.

The NHC engages heritage stakeholders in public and private institutions, including the various organs of civil society, mobilises debates and builds awareness about heritage. The council’s budget for 2016/17 was R61.6 million.

A historic collection of African beads, known as the Broster Beadwork Collection and originates from the Eastern Cape, was declared a heritage property of South Africa. It was unveiled by the Minister of Arts and Culture in March 2016 at the Walter Sisulu University in Mthatha, Eastern Cape.

South African Heritage Resources Agency (SAHRA)
The SAHRA is a statutory organisation established under the National Heritage Resources Act of 1999, as the national administrative body responsible for the protection of South Africa’s cultural heritage.

The SAHRA provides for the identification, protection, conservation and promotion of South Africa’s heritage for present and future generations. It established the National Heritage Resources Fund to provide financial assistance to approved bodies or individuals, for any project that contributes to the conservation and protection of South Africa’s national heritage resources.

Conservation categories include:
- national heritage sites, registers, areas and objects
- protected areas
- structures of more than 60 years old
- burial grounds and graves
- fossils (palaeontology) and archaeology
- rock art
- sites relating to the history of slavery in South Africa
- movable objects such as those recovered from the soil or waters of South Africa
- discoveries that are associated with living heritage; ethnographic and decorative art; objects of scientific interest; books, documents, photographs, film material or sound recordings.

The SAHRA conserves buildings of historical or architectural value. Heritage South Africa is a non-profit organisation that conserves South Africa’s variety of architectural gems.

National Arts Council of South Africa (NAC)
The NAC facilitates opportunities for people to practise and appreciate the arts. The council also promotes the general application of the arts in the community, fosters the expression of national identity by means of the arts, promotes freedom in the practice of the arts, and gives historically disadvantaged people greater access to the arts. The council’s total budget for 2016/17 was R101.2 million.

The following principles are adhered to:
- the following types of geographical names would generally be avoided:
  - approved names of places elsewhere in South Africa
  - names of places in other countries and names of countries
  - names that are blasphemous, indecent, offensive, vulgar, unesthetic or embarrassing
  - names that are discriminatory or derogatory
  - names that may be regarded as an advertisement for a particular product, service or firm
- names of living people.

Geographical names committees have been established in all nine provinces.

South African Geographical Names Council (SAGNC)
The SAGNC advises the Minister of Arts and Culture on the transformation and standardisation of official geographical names in South Africa. The council has jurisdiction over all names of geographical features and entities falling within the territories over which the South African Government has sovereignty.

The renaming of geographical features is regarded as a form of symbolic reparation to address South Africa’s past. The following principles are adhered to:
- each individual feature or entity should have only one official name
- the following types of geographical names would generally be avoided:
  - approved names of places elsewhere in South Africa
  - names of places in other countries and names of countries
  - names that are blasphemous, indecent, offensive, vulgar, unesthetic or embarrassing
  - names that are discriminatory or derogatory
  - names that may be regarded as an advertisement for a particular product, service or firm
- names of living people.

Geographical names committees have been established in all nine provinces.

Business and Arts South Africa (BASA)
BASA is an internationally recognised South African development agency with a suite of integrated programmes implemented nationally and internationally. The agency encourages mutually beneficial partnerships between business and the arts, securing the future development of the arts sector in South Africa and contributing to corporate success through Shared Value.

BASA was founded in 1997 as a joint initiative of the DAC and the business sector as a public/private partnership.

BASA’s mission is to ensure the relevance and sustainability of the arts in South Africa by providing expertise and developing partnerships between business and the arts.

Arts and Culture Trust (ACT)
The ACT is the oldest arts funding agency in democratic South Africa. Since 1994 it has advanced its position towards becoming a self-sustaining and perpetual fund for the continued development of arts and culture.

It was established to develop and promote arts, culture and heritage, in general, by securing financial and other resources; and to promote the needs and the role of the sector in the public domain.

Due regard is given to ensuring a spread of projects across all the cultural and artistic disciplines, including arts administration, arts education, community art, festivals, heritage, craft, fine art, dance, music, theatre, literature, multidisciplinary and new media.

Community Art Centres and Other Cultural Organisations
There are hundreds of community art centres in operation, varying from community-initiated to government-managed centres, in South Africa.

The centres operate at different levels, ranging from general socio-cultural promotion to advanced programmes and vocational training.

Some of these centres are located in, for example, craft centres, community halls and theatres.

Many art centres are functioning well and have made impressive contributions to local socio-economic development.

The DAC endorses and supports programmes in needy centres that are community-initiated or non-governmental.

Bureau of Heraldry
The Bureau of Heraldry was founded in 1963 and is responsible for registering:
- coats of arms
- badges and other emblems such as flags, seals, medals and insignia of rank and offices of order
- names and uniforms (colours) of associations and organisations, including universities
- promoting national symbols.

National Language Service (NLS)
The NLS is tasked with meeting the constitutional obligations of multilingualism by managing language diversity through language planning, human-language technologies and terminology projects. It also provides a translation and editing service in the official and foreign languages.

Through its bursary scheme, the department offers language-learning opportunities, as well as training in language practice.

The NLS promotes the use and equal status of all official languages. This entails the review of the national language policy, the development of language terminologies and human language technology, translation and publishing services in all official languages, and the awarding of bursaries.

Pan South African Language Board (PanSALB)
Parliament established the PanSALB to develop South Africa’s 11 official languages, as well as the Khoi and the San languages and South African Sign Language, and to promote multilingualism by:
• creating the conditions for the development of and the equal use of all official languages
• fostering respect for and encouraging the use of other languages in the country
• encouraging the best use of the country’s linguistic resources to enable South Africans to free themselves from all forms of linguistic discrimination, domination and division and to enable them to exercise appropriate, linguistic choices for their own well-being, and for national development.

To achieve this, the board has three structures:
• provincial language committees
• national language bodies
• national lexicographic units.

The PanSALB is mandated by law to investigate complaints about language-rights violations from any individual, organisation or institution.

It conducts hearings at which complainants and respondents are present, and depending on its findings may recommend steps to be taken by the department or institution concerned.

The PanSALB creates an environment that is conducive to developing, using and promoting all official languages, as well as the Khoi, Nama and San languages and South African Sign Language.

The PanSALB is a constitutional institution that promotes an awareness of multilingualism as a national resource and supports previously marginalised languages. It is mandated to investigate complaints about language rights violations from any individual, organisation or institution. The PanSALB’s total budget for 2016/17 was R93,5 million.

Programmes, projects and initiatives
Public Art Development Programme (PADP)
The PADP is a work stream of the Mzansi Golden Economy Strategy (MGE). It is implemented in partnership with other levels of government, agencies and civil society. The PADP is intended to strengthen and grow the arts, culture and heritage sector, with particular emphasis on giving the youth, women, children and persons with disabilities the opportunity to participate and benefit from the PADP.

The objectives of the PADP include:
• creating decent work for artists, designers, researchers, storytellers, crafters, performance artists and a range of other workers that are involved in the realisation and presentation of public artworks
• attracting investment and economic activity to particular locations, including the rural areas.

MGE Strategy
The MGE strategy will host 63 flagship cultural events over the medium term at an estimated cost of R392,1 million over the period, budgeted for in the Cultural and Creative Industries Development subprogramme in the Arts and Culture Promotion and Development programme.

There are national flagship cultural events, such as the Buyel’Ekhaya Pan African Music Festival (Eastern Cape), the Joy of Jazz Festival (Gauteng), and the Marula Festival (Limpopo) and the Diamonds and Dorings Festival (Northern Cape).

Another part of the strategy is to develop major international exchange platforms such as Africa Month and international cultural seasons.

The cultural seasons are a programme of arts and culture exchange between South Africa and another country to create new international markets for South African arts and culture products.

The DAC is planning the South Africa-Russia Season for the medium term. The department projects that the MGE strategy will create an estimated 53 000 work opportunities over the period.

Digitisation of the archival records
Through the cooperation project between the French company L’Institut National De L’Audiovisuel (INA) and the National Archives and Records Services of South Africa involving the digitisation of dictabelts and the training of South African Archivists on the digitisation and restoration of dictabelts, the resultant Rivonia Trial Recordings were expected to be made available on 27 October 2017 to celebrate UNESCO’s World Day for Audio-Visual Heritage.

Living Legends Legacy Programme (LLLP)
The LLLP has continued to hold master classes where there is transmission of Skills by Legends across the generation divides.

The Living Legends Legacy Trust, which was launched in 2015, ensures the continued implementation of the programme and creation of partnerships within the private sector.

The development of a sustainable mechanism to support legendary artists, and to ensure that their talents and skills are fully used, is critical for the development of the sector.

Through the LLLP, a fund was to be created to grow the resources for the benefit of the current and future legends. To celebrate South African arts and cultural legacies, the Market Theatre staged the Divas of Kofifi musical from 11 to 13 August 2016 to pay tribute to Thandi Klaasen, Abigail Khubeka and Dorothy Masuka.

Moral Regeneration Movement (MRM)
The objective of the MRM is to contribute to the development of a caring society by reviving the spirit of Ubuntu/Botho (humanity). It also seeks to realise the values and ideals enshrined in the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa of 1996.

Festivals
Arts and cultural festivals abound in South Africa, offering something for every taste – from prickly pears, peaches, “witblits”, asparagus and cherries, to various music forms, dance, arts, science, books and whales.

Many of these have become annual events, growing in popularity and attendance numbers.

• Aardklop, held annually in Potchefstroom, North West, is inherently Afrikaans, but universal in character. The festival provides a platform for the creativity and talent of local artists.
• Arts Alive International Festival in Newtown, Johannesburg provides the best in homegrown and overseas entertainment in September.
• The Cape Town International Jazz Festival features international and African artists. It also features photographic and art exhibitions.
• The Dance Umbrella is a festival of contemporary choreography and dance, presenting work ranging from community-based dance troupes to international companies.
• The Klein Karoo National Kunstefes, known as the KKNK, is a vibrant festival for the performing arts, is held annually in Oudtshoorn and presentations include drama, cabaret, and contemporary and classical music.
• The Mangang African Cultural Festival (MACUCE) in Bloemfontein in the Free State is one of the biggest cultural tourism events in southern Africa. This 10-day festival showcases the cream of African and international talent.
• The National Arts Festival, held annually in July in Grahamstown in the Eastern Cape, is one of the largest and most diverse arts gatherings in Africa.
• Oppikoppi Bushveld Bash near Northam in North West offers live performances by rock, alternative and blues bands, both local and from abroad.

The Splathys Festival near Underberg in Kwazulu-Natal offers a variety of mainstream and alternative rock and pop music.
There are also multitudes of festivals that take place across the country. The most well-known is the Grahamstown National Arts Festival which is the biggest annual celebration of the arts on the African continent. Over the years, the festival has showcased some of South Africa’s best-performing arts talent, including up-and-coming artists. It has also spawned a multitude of similar festivals such as the Klein Karoo Nasionale Kunstefees in Oudtshoorn.

Music
Music is one of the key cultural industries identified in the Cultural Industrial Growth Strategy Report, and Government has committed itself to harnessing its potential. Local music accounts for a third of all the music bought by South Africans. Townsend jazz and blues, especially the kwêla music of the forties and fifties, are being redefined: the country also has a rich choral tradition, and pop and rock musicians have made their mark internationally.

Even techno-rave and house music have found their own variations in local culture. Kwâito and hip-hop are very popular, combining elements of rap, reggae, and other musical styles into a distinctly South African style. Kwâait Jazz is also gaining momentum.

In addition to its cultural value, music plays an important economic role in the country, generating significant copyright revenue. The Taking South African Music to the World Programme is aimed at improving export opportunities for South African music.

The DAC funds a number of musical ensembles directly and indirectly, through the NAC. In May 2016, the SABC committed itself to playing 90% local music across the 18 radio stations. This followed extensive engagements with some music representatives.

Moshtiso Music Conference and Exhibition
The DAC hosts the annual Moshtiso Conference and Exhibition, a key music event on the African continent that promotes collaboration among interested parties from both the private and public sectors.

The event is designed to provide opportunities for business networking; information exchange; music-business education; promotion and product development for national music producers, performers, individuals and entities providing support services; as well as to strengthen business opportunities for the music industry and related media.

The 2016 Moshtiso Music Conference and Exhibition, themed: ‘Collaboration without borders 2016: The Wave’, took place from 7 to 10 September at the SACBC. There were over 100 panellists participating in over 12 topics – five breakaways, five plenaries, two workshops, as well as a music managers’ meeting.

Mangaaf African Cultural Festival
The Free State Provincial Government, through the Department of Sport, Arts, Culture and Recreation hosted the 19th edition of the Mangaaf African Cultural Festival (MACUFE) from September 30 to 9 October 2016. The festival provided world class entertainment to its solid patrons who have grown astronomically in numbers over the years. The music line up included Karyn White (USA), Andy Narell (USA) and Romeo Mputu (DRC). The following gospel singers performed at the MACUFE Gospel show: Solly Mahiangu, Deborah Frazer, Sello Malete, Siphokazi, Lesego, Rothiwa, Dr Tumi, Teboho, Thokozile Lachabala and Free State Extravaganza.
South African Traditional Music Achievement (SATMA) Awards

The SATMA Awards are aimed at promoting, preserving, uplifting, developing, honouring and awarding traditional musicians across racial and ethnic backgrounds.

The 11th SATMA Awards ceremony was held in October 2016 in Richards Bay, KwaZulu-Natal, and the winners were:

- Best Full-track Music Download: Sfiso Ncwane, Bayede Baba.
- Best Selling Album: Nathi, Buyelekhaya.
- Best Selling DVD: Joyous Celebration, Volume 19: Back to the Cross.
- Best Selling Overall Music Download: Sfiso Ncwane, Bayede Baba.
- Highest Radio Airplay of the Year: DBN Ntys, Shumaya.
- Highest Radio Airplay Composers’ Award: Samkele Maphumulo, Kabele Masekane, Cebgo Ngcobo, Wanda Shabalala and Lwazi Yokwana for Shumaya by DBN Ntys.
- Best Selling Digital Download Composers’ Award: Sfiso Ncwane, Bayede Baba.
- Destiny Award: Rubushe.
- Amstel Record of the Year: Roll Up by Emtee.

South African Traditional Music Achievement (SATMA) Awards

- Lifetime Achievement Awards: Nana Coyote (posthumous award), Bhekumuzi Luthuli (posthumous award), Roger Lucey.
- Best Selling Album: Nathi, Buyelekhaya.
- Best Selling DVD: Joyous Celebration, Volume 19: Back to the Cross.
- Best Selling Overall Music Download: Sfiso Ncwane, Bayede Baba.
- Best Selling Music Download: (Ring-back Tone) – Sfiso Ncwane, Bayede Baba.
- Best Selling Full-track Music Download: Nathi, Nomvula.
- Highest Radio Airplay of the Year: DBN Ntys, Shumaya.
- Highest Radio Airplay Composers’ Award: Samkele Maphumulo, Kabele Masekane, Cebgo Ngcobo, Wanda Shabalala and Lwazi Yokwana for Shumaya by DBN Ntys.
- Best Selling Digital Download Composers’ Award: Sfiso Ncwane, Bayede Baba.
- Amstel Record of the Year: Roll Up by Emtee.

Dance

Dancing is part of the African way of life and has become a prime means of artistic expression, with dance companies expanding and exploring new territory.

Contemporary work ranges from normal preconceptions of movement and performance art or performance theatre to the completely unconventional.

Added to this is the African experience, which includes traditional dance inspired by wedding ceremonies, battles, rituals and the trifles of everyday life.

An informal but highly versatile performance venue in Johannesburg, The Dance Factory, provides a permanent platform for a variety of dance and movement groups.

The University of the Witwatersrand (Wits) Theatre is another popular dance venue.

Dance Umbrella

The Dance Umbrella is an annual platform for South African contemporary dance at which new choreographic creations are presented. It is an open platform encompassing performances by youth and community groups, the efforts of young choreographers and commissioned works from professionals.

The 2016 Dance Umbrella event, opened on 25 February at the UJ Arts Centre Theatre and ran until 6 March.

The first week kicked off at the UJ Arts Centre Theatre with a work choreographed by Jessica Nuppen and Moving into Dance, Mophatong’s Sunnyboy Motau, Rebellion and Johannesburg on 25 and 26 February.

The event, which was held at multiple sites across Johannesburg, was an astounding collection of the country’s best dance talent. It showcased groundbreaking new genres and top-notch global collaborations in the dance sector.

Visual arts

South Africa has a rich variety of visual art, with influences ranging from prehistoric, ancient and indigenous art to western, Asian and contemporary art.

Art galleries, ranging from small privately owned commercial galleries, to major regional galleries such as the South African National Gallery in Cape Town, the Durban Art Gallery in KwaZulu-Natal, Johannesburg Art Gallery in Gauteng and King George VI Gallery in Port Elizabeth in the Eastern Cape, showcase collections of indigenous, historical and contemporary works.

Educational institutions also play an important role in acquiring works of national interest.

Rock art

There are many traces of ancient cultures that existed in southern Africa in the distant past. Experts estimate that there are 250 000 rock-art sites south of the Zambezi.

The San people, left a paradise, and unique collection of Stone Age paintings and engravings in the region, which also represents the largest collection of its kind in the world.

Photography

With its scenic beauty, abundant wildlife, diversity of cultures and rich historical heritage, South Africa is a photographer’s paradise.

Many South African photographers have been acclaimed for their work, which features in coffee table books, documentaries, local and international exhibitions, magazines and newspapers.

Famous South African photographers include Kevin Carter, Ernest Cole, Alf Kumalo, Peter Magubane, Jürgen Schadeberg, Austin Stevens, Greg Marinovich, Andrew Tshabangu, Sam Nizma and James Oatway.

In June 2016, Peter Magubane launched a book titled June 16: 40th Anniversary Edition in Johannesburg. It is a pictorial account of the events that took place on 16 June 1976—a fateful day that marked a significant change in the discourse of South Africa’s push for liberation. The foreword of the book was written by Attlee veteran Winnie Madikizela-Mandela.

A number of photographers from the state of emergency era partnered with the McGregor Museum and the Nelson Mandela
Foundation to honour photographers who played a fundamental role in the liberation.
This museum is home to an exhibition which tells forgotten stories and highlights South Africa’s heritage.

Architecture
South Africa has a rich architectural heritage, reflecting contributions from all the cultural groups in the country. Through the centuries, a unique trend has developed in South Africa’s architectural style, which has been referred to as an innovative marriage of traditions.
This is evident in the variety of architectural structures found all over the country, ranging from humble dwellings, historical homesteads and public buildings, to modern, commercial buildings reflecting state-of-the-art technology and designs that match the best in the world.
Schools of architecture exist within various South African universities, including the universities of Pretoria, Cape Town, the Free State, KwaZulu-Natal, the Witwatersrand and the Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University.

Crafts
A high level of skill is brought to the production of work that has long been a part of African society, and has found new commercial outlets.
South African beadwork, once the insignia of tribal royalty, has found a huge range of applications, from the creation of coverings for everything such as bottles and matchboxes, to the reproduction of the red AIDS ribbon using Zulu beadwork known as Zulu love letters.
With workplaces ranging from the pavements and markets of the big cities to dwellings in deep rural areas, South Africans produce a remarkable range of arts and crafts, including various forms of traditional artwork and innovative new products.
There are also several important collections of African art in South Africa, such as the Standard Bank collection at the Gertrude Posel Gallery at Wits University, in Johannesburg. The Durban Art Gallery houses works of historical and anthropological significance. These range from jewellery, tableware, home decorations, embroidery and key rings to skilfully crafted wooden engravings and wirework sculptures. In addition to the standard materials such as beads, grass, leather, fabric and clay, many other mediums are used, including telephone wire, plastic bags, empty cans, bottle tops and even food tin labels, to create brightly coloured paper mâché bowls.
Shops, markets and collectors dealing in African crafts promote employment and income to communities. Fugitive’s Drift in KwaZulu-Natal, offers a large variety of skilfully crafted basketry; the Northern Cape Schmidtsdrift community of displaced San people produces paintings influenced by ancient rock art; and the Madi a Thavha Art Gallery in the Soutpansberg region of Limpopo produces and sells a range of arts and crafts created by the local Venda and Tsonga communities, including beautiful beadwork, sculptures, ceramics and jewellery.

South African folk art is also making inroads into Western-style “high art”. The Ndebele tradition of house-painting, part of the widespread African practice of painting or decorating the exteriors of homes, burgeoned amazingly with the advent of commercial paints.
This has also led to artists such as Esther Mahlangu, who has put her adaptations of the distinctive, highly coloured geometric Ndebele designs on everything from cars to aeroplanes.

Design
Design Indaba’s annual Conference of Creativity took place from 1 to 3 March 2017 at the Artscape Theatre in Cape Town and broadcasted live to multiple African cities via simulcast. The Design Indaba Conference is a yearly three-day showcase of the world’s best creative minds, providing endless inspiration, new perspectives and universal solutions.
The conference has been the highlight of South Africa’s creative calendar since 1995, and has not only contributed vastly to uplifting the South African design sector, but has also been named the best design conference in the world.
For 2017, the Design Indaba audience was treated to a stellar selection of speakers with compelling multimedia presentations that combined performance, storytelling, career-changing insights and the most cutting-edge creative work on the global circuit.

Literature
South Africa has a rich and diverse literary history, with realism, unapologetically recently, dominating works of fiction.
Fiction has been written in all of South Africa’s 11 official languages – with a large body of work in Afrikaans and English. This overview focuses primarily on English fiction, though it also touches on major poetic developments.
The local literary sector has become globally competitive and the country’s writers continue to command respect throughout the world.
Well-known South African writers include Nobel Prize winners JM Coetzee and Nadine Gordimer, Gcina Mhlophe, Phumzile Mpe, Es’kia Mphahlele, Wally Serote, Athol Fugard, Herman Charles Bosman, Sir Percy Fitzpatrick, Breyten Breytenbach, Dalene Matthee, Alan Paton, Olive Schreiner, Andre P Brink and Njabulo Ndebele.
The current generation of writers are also making their mark on the world stage, with writers such as Zakes Mda, Niq Mhlongo and the late Kabelo K Sello Duiker, who have had their novels translated into languages such as Dutch, German and Spanish; and Don Meyer, whose work has attracted worldwide critical acclaim and a growing international fan base. Originally written in Afrikaans, Meyer’s books have been translated into 25 languages, including English, French, German, Dutch, Italian, Spanish, Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, Russian, Finnish, Chinese, Romanian, Spanish, German, Japanese and Polish.
Well-known poets include Keorapetse William Kgositsile, Joseph Mbuyiseni Mchali, Roy Campbell, Sheila Cussons, Jakob Daniël du Toit (better known as Totius), Elisabeth Eybers, Ingrid Jonker, Antjie Krog, Thomas Pringle, NP van Wyk Louw and Eugène Marais.
The new pop culture in poetry, often referred to as “spoken-word poetry”, is one of the most celebrated art forms in the country and beyond. Poets such as Lesego Rampokeng, Lebogang Mashile, Kangafela oa Magogodi, Biaq Pearl, Jessica Mngoveni and Mark Manaka are household names in the genre. Regular platforms have been created to give these poets opportunities to hone their skills.
The Publishing Association of South Africa is committed to creativity, literacy and the free flow of ideas and encouraging a culture of reading.
The seventh annual National Book Week, which ran from 5 to 11 September 2016, kicked off at the Apartheid Museum in Johannesburg.
The week is a strategic national campaign hosted by the South African Book Development Council, in partnership with the DAC.
National Book Week, envisioning a reading South Africa, provides an overarching platform to get the nation reading and is celebrated across all nine provinces of South Africa.
The 2016 launch presented a very contentious question: “Are Books Expensive?”, to which 70% of about 80 guests responded “Yes” and 30% said “No”. An illustrious panel of speakers, consumers in commercial outlets, booksellers, authors and other interest groups, unpacked the production elements of the book, and the contributing factors to the end price of the book.
The importance of the book also came out of the discussions, with MenCare highlighting how the book is used to form a bond between fathers and children.
The DAC supports the Baobab Literary Journal with the purpose of providing a regular publishing platform for budding writers to appear alongside seasoned ones. This publication includes contributors from various countries across the African continent and the Diaspora.
The department continues to support the Time of the Writer and the Poetry Africa festivals, held annually in Durban. These festivals also develop young writers, a schools programme and an initiative with the Department of Correctional Services to promote writing among inmates. WordFest, a literary component of the Grahamstown Arts Festival, focuses on promoting literature in indigenous languages. Also popular are the Johannesburg and Franschoek literary festivals.
There is an English Literary Museum in Grahamstown and an Afrikaans Museum in Bloemfontein. The Centre for African Literature Studies at the University of KwaZulu-Natal is home to the Bernt Lindfors Collection of African literature.
The centre’s mission is to promote a culture of reading, writing and publishing in all local languages, and easy access to books for all South Africans.

South African Literary Awards (SALA)
The SALAs were held in Pretoria in October 2016 and the winners were:
when Afrikaans filmmakers developed an interest in the industry. The first-ever newsreel was shot in South Africa during the First World War. The studio produced 42 movies between 1916 and 1922. The three largest film distributors in South Africa are Ster-Kinekor, United International Pictures and Nu-Metro. Ster-Kinekor has a specialised art circuit, called Cinema Nouveau, with theatres in Johannesburg, Cape Town, Durban and Pretoria.

Film festivals include the Durban International Film Festival; the North West Film Festival; the Apollo Film Festival in Victoria West; the Three Continents Film Festival (specialising in African, South American and Asian films); the Soweto Film Festival; and the Encounters Documentary Festival, which alternates between Cape Town and Johannesburg.

The incentives comprise the Foreign Film and Television Production incentive to attract foreign-based film productions to shoot on location in South Africa, and the South African Film and Television Production and Co-Production incentive, which aims to assist local film producers in producing local content. South Africa's first co-production treaty was signed with Canada in 1997, followed by Germany, Italy, the UK, France, Australia and New Zealand. The three largest film distributors in South Africa are Ster-Kinekor, United International Pictures and Nu-Metro. Ster-Kinekor has a specialised art circuit, called Cinema Nouveau, with theatres in Johannesburg, Cape Town, Durban and Pretoria.

Film festivals include the Durban International Film Festival; the North West Film Festival; the Apollo Film Festival in Victoria West; the Three Continents Film Festival (specialising in African, South American and Asian films); the Soweto Film Festival; and the Encounters Documentary Festival, which alternates between Cape Town and Johannesburg.

National Film and Video Foundation (NFVF) The NFVF develops and promotes the film and video industry in South Africa. The foundation promotes local film and video products, supports the development of and access to the industry, and addresses historical imbalances in infrastructure, skills and resources in the industry. The foundation’s total budget for 2016/17 was R126.5 million.

South African Film and Television Awards (SAFTAs) The SAFTAs, also known as the Golden Horn Awards, were held in March 2017 in Sun City, North West. The winners were:

- Best TV Soap/Tele novela: The Road
- Best Achievement in Directing – TV Soap/Tele novela: High Rollers
- Best Actor – TV Soap/Tele novela: Anthony Coleman.
- Best Actress – TV Soap/Tele novela: Tina Jaxa.
- Best Supporting Actor – TV Soap/Tele novela: Mandla Gaduka.
- Most Popular TV Soap: Isibaya.
- Best TV Drama: Heist.
- Best Achievement in Directing – TV Drama: Heist.
- Best Actor – TV Drama: Jerry Mofokeng.
- Best Actress – TV Drama: Tiffany Barbusano.
- Best Supporting Actor – TV Drama: Warren Masemola.
- Best Supporting Actress – TV Drama: Jana Cilliers.
- Best TV Comedy: Puppet Nation ZA News.
- Best TV Comedy: Puppet Nation ZA News.
- Best TV Comedy: Puppet Nation ZA News.
- Best TV Comedy: Puppet Nation ZA News.

Museums Museums are the windows to the natural and cultural heritage of a country. South Africa can justifiably be called the “museum country of Africa”, with the earliest of its museums dating back to the first half of the 19th century. There are more than 300 museums in South Africa. They range from museums of geology, history, the biological sciences and the arts, to mining, agriculture, forestry and many other disciplines. Visitors can find exhibits, both conventional and eccentric, on every conceivable topic – from beer to beadwork, from fashion to food.

New additions are those reflecting the apartheid era, and commemorating those who fought and died for the cause of establishing a democratic country. Most of the country’s national museums are declared cultural institutions and fall under the overall jurisdiction of the DAC. They receive an annual subsidy from the department, but function autonomously.

The following officially declared heritage institutions depend on annual transfers from the DAC:
- Northern Flagship Institutions, Pretoria
- Freedom Park, Pretoria
- Iziko Museum, Cape Town
- Natal Museum, Pietermaritzburg
- Bloemfontein National Museum
- Afrikaans Language Museum, Paarl
- The National English Literary Museum, Grahamstown
- Msunduza/ Voortrekker Museum, Pietermaritzburg
- War Museum of the Boer Republics, Bloemfontein
- Robben Island Museum, Cape Town
• William Humphreys Art Gallery, Kimberley
• Luthuli Museum, KwaDukuza
• Nelson Mandela Museum, Mthatha.

The following museums report to the Minister of Arts and Culture:
• Ditsong museums of South Africa
• Iziko museums, Cape Town
• Natal Museum, Pietermaritzburg
• National Museum, Bloemfontein
• Language Museum, Paarl
• National English Literary Museum, Grahamstown
• Msunduzi/Voortrekker Museum, Pietermaritzburg
• War Museum of the Boer Republics, Bloemfontein
• Robben Island Museum, Cape Town
• William Humphreys Art Gallery, Kimberley
• Engelenburg House Art Collection, Pretoria
• Nelson Mandela Museum, Mthatha
• Luthuli Museum, KwaDukuza.

The Iziko museums comprise the South African National Gallery, the William Fehr Collection and the Michaelis Collection.

The Robben Island Museum was established as a national monument on 4 November 1994, and declared South Africa’s first world heritage site in 1999. Guided tours are offered to historical sites on the island, including the cell in which former President Mandela was imprisoned.

In April 2009, the DAC declared Freedom Park, Pretoria, a cultural institution under the Cultural Institutions Act of 1998. The hapa museum at the historic Freedom Park was officially unveiled in April 2013.

The museum, which is situated at the top of Salovkop in Pretoria, was also planned as a monument to the mighty legacy of South Africa’s first democratically elected President, Nelson Mandela.

hapa is a Khoi word which means “a dream”. The museum will help the country define the history, in holistic terms, from the early wars of dispossession such as the Khoikhoi-Dutch war in the 1500s; the arrival of Jan van Riebeeck in the Cape in 1652; the Third War of Dispossession between the Khoisan and colonial authorities in the 1800s; and the South African War, alternatively known as the Anglo-Boer War, to the anti-apartheid struggle – all of which form part of the freedom history and define the freedom South Africans enjoy today. The museum is the result of nationwide consultative processes that solicited advice from youth, intellectuals, academics, artistic communities, women’s groups, traditional leaders and healers and faith-based organisations.

It is a product of South Africans from all walks of life and is in every shape and form a community’s dream.

Other elements include a vast wall commemorating those who paid the ultimate price for freedom, an eternal flame paying tribute to the unknown and unsung heroes and heroines, a gallery dedicated to the legends of humanity, a symbolic resting place for those who have died and the story of southern Africa’s 3.6 billion years of history.

Other museums administered by central government departments or research councils are the:
• Museum of the Council for Geoscience (Pretoria)
• Theilier Veterinary Science Museum at Onderstepoort (Pretoria)
• South African Air Force Museum at Swartkop Air Force Base (Pretoria) with its satellites in Cape Town, Port Elizabeth and Durban
• museum of the Department of Correctional Services (Pretoria)

The following natural history museums do not fall under the DAC, but work closely with the national heritage institutions:
• McGregor Museum, Kimberley
• East London Museum
• South African Institute for Aquatic Biodiversity, Grahamstown
• Port Elizabeth Museum
• Durban Museum of Natural History
• Iziko Museums of Natural History

The best-known cultural history collections in South Africa are housed in the Iziko museums, the Ditsong museums, as well as the Durban Local History Museum and Museum Africa in Johannesburg.

The South African National Gallery in Cape Town and the William Humphreys Art Gallery in Kimberley report to the DAC.

The South African Cultural History Museum (Slave Lodge) in Cape Town houses the oldest cultural history collection in the country.

The South African Museum (Cape Town) showcases the natural history of South Africa, and relics of the early human inhabitants of the subcontinent.

The huge Whale Hall houses possibly the most impressive of all its exhibitions. This is the only collection in South Africa with a planetarium attached to it.

The Transvaal Museum in Pretoria houses the skull of Mrs Ples, a 2.5-million-year-old hominid fossil, and depicts the origin and development of life in South Africa, from the most primitive unicellular form of life to the emergence of mammals and the first human beings.

It has an impressive collection of early human fossils and houses some of the largest herpetological and ornithological collections in southern Africa.

The Tswaing Meteorite Crater, situated to the north-west of Pretoria, combines a museum with a cultural-development initiative.

The National Cultural History Museum in Pretoria is a centre for the preservation and promotion of the culture and heritage of all South Africans.

It explores cultural diversity and commonalities, links the present and the past to offer a better understanding of both, and nurtures the living cultures of all South Africans.

Mining is best represented by the De Beers Museum at the Big Hole in Kimberley, where visitors can view the biggest hole ever made by man with pick and shovel.

It includes an open-air museum, which houses many buildings dating back to the era of the diamond diggers.

Another important mining museum is at Pilgrim’s Rest. Mpumalanga, which showcases the culture and characteristic architecture of the winelands; and the Willem Prinsloo Agricultural Museum between Pretoria and Bronkhorstspruit, in Gauteng.

This museum comprises two “house” museums and runs educational programmes based on its extensive collection of early farming implements, vehicles of yesteryear and indigenous farm animals.

The Absa Museum and archives in Johannesburg preserve the banking group’s more than 110 years of history. The museum also houses a unique and very valuable coin and banknote collection.

The Apartheid Museum in Johannesburg offers a realistic view of the political situation in South Africa during the apartheid years.

Exhibitions in the museum include audiovisual footage recorded during the apartheid era.

The Red Location Museum in Port Elizabeth highlights the struggle against apartheid and has won several international awards.

A common type of museum in South Africa is the “house” museum. Examples include an entire village nucleus in Stellenbosch; the mansion of the millionaire industrialist Sammy Marks; the Kruger House Museum, the residence of Paul Kruger, former President of the Zuid-Afrikaansche Republiek; and Melrose House, where the Peace Treaty of Vereeniging that ended the Second Anglo-Boer/South African War (1899 to 1902) was signed, around the massive dining table, on 31 May 1902, in Pretoria.

Simpler variations include the Pioneer Museum and 1848 house in Silverton, Pretoria; and the Diepknol Farm Museum featuring a farmhouse dating back to the 1850s, at Suikerbosrand near Heidelberg, in Gauteng.

There are several open-air museums that showcase the black cultures of the country, for example, Tsonga Kraal near Lenyelwe, Limpopo; the Ndebele Museum in Middelburg, Mpumalanga; the Bakone Malapa Museum in Polokwane, Limpopo; and the South Sotho Museum in Witleshoek, Free State.

Another well-known African Museum for Military History in Johannesburg reflects the military history of the country, while the War Museum in Bloemfontein depicts the Anglo-Boer/South African War, in particular.

The famous battlefields of KwaZulu-Natal, the Northern Cape and North West are also worth a visit.

On 18 May, the world celebrates International Museum Day which is coordinated by the International Council of Museums. The event highlights a specific theme that changes every year.
Archives
The archives of governmental bodies are transferred to archive repositories after 20 years, and are accessible to the public and to the office of origin.

The National Archives in Pretoria includes the National Film, Video and Sound Archives (NFVSA).

Its primary functions are to obtain and preserve films, videotapes and sound recordings of archival value, and to make these available for research and reference purposes.

The archives of central government are preserved in the National Archives’ repository in Pretoria.

The nine provinces run their archiving services independently from the National Archives.

The retrieval of information from archives is facilitated by the National Automated Archival Information System, which can be found at www.national.archives.gov.za.

It includes national registers of manuscripts, photographs and audiovisual material.

The National Archives is responsible for collecting non-public records with enduring value of national significance.

The National Archives also renders a regulatory records-management service with regard to current records in governmental bodies, aimed at promoting efficient, transparent and accountable administration.

In so doing, it is obliged to pay special attention to aspects of the nation’s experience neglected by archives of the past.

The Oral History Programme seeks to build the National Archives’ capacity to document the spoken word, and fill the gaps in the archives of previously disadvantaged communities.

The automated National Register of Oral Sources is an important element of the programme.

The National Oral History Association, which was established in 2006, hosts annual oral history conferences.

The National Archives’ outreach programme promotes the use of its facilities and functions. Archives are taken to the people of South Africa through coordinated national and provincial archive services.

The National Archives is also responsible for ensuring effective, transparent and accountable management of all public records.

The Convention for a Democratic South Africa and the multiparty South African collections have been nominated and provisionally registered for the UN Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO) Memory of the World International Register.

This is part of South Africa’s contribution to the documented collective memory of the peoples of the world.

Library and information services (LIS)
South Africa’s growing LIS sector includes the NLSA, a statutory body; the South African Library for the Blind (SALB); Blind South Africa (Blind SA); public/community libraries; special libraries; government libraries; and higher education libraries.

National Library of South Africa
The NLSA was established after the merger of the former State Library in Pretoria and the former South African Library in Cape Town, and includes a specialist unit, the Centre for the Book in Cape Town.

The NLSA in Pretoria has seating capacity for 1 300 library users.

The NLSA offers free Internet access to users in Cape Town and Pretoria.

The Centre for the Book promotes the culture of reading, writing and publishing in all official languages of South Africa.

The NLSA is a custodian and provider of the nation’s knowledge resources. It is mandated to collect and preserve intellectual documentary heritage material and make it accessible worldwide.

Its collections contain a wealth of information sources, including rare manuscripts, books, periodicals, government publications, foreign official publications, maps, technical reports, and special interest material, including Africana and newspapers.

The National Library also supports schools, academics, community libraries and researchers through its Library and Information Services (LIS) unit, which offers access to its collections.

This includes a variety of services such as lending, interlibrary loans, document delivery, and digital resources.

The NLSA also provides training and development opportunities for librarians and information professionals through its Library and Information Services (LIS) unit.

In addition, the NLSA collaborates with other libraries and organizations to promote lifelong learning and access to information.

Library and Information Association of South Africa
The Library and Information Association of South Africa (LIASA) is a professional organization that represents the interests of librarians and information professionals in South Africa.

Its mission is to promote the development and enhancement of library and information services in South Africa.

The association works towards the improvement of library and information services, the advancement of knowledge and skill in the profession, and the enhancement of the status and role of librarians and information professionals.

LIASA also lobbies for the recognition of the importance of library and information services in the development of South Africa.

In summary, the LIS sector in South Africa is a vital component of the country’s educational, scientific, and cultural infrastructure.

The various LIS institutions and organizations work together to provide access to information, promote lifelong learning, and support the development of knowledge and skills in the profession.

The Library and Information Association of South Africa plays a crucial role in advancing the interests of librarians and information professionals and contributes to the development of the LIS sector in South Africa.
Members serve on the council for a renewable term of three years.

Some important policy matters include the development of the Library and Information Services Transformation Charter, which aligns the role of libraries with the vision and strategic framework of Government; the training of librarians; and the funding of the sector.

Legal Deposit Committee (New Members July 2016)
The Legal Deposit Committee was appointed in terms of the Legal Deposit Act of 1997, which is administered by the DAC. The committee members serve on the committee for a renewable term of three years.

The mandate of the Act includes:
- providing for the preservation of the national documentary heritage through the legal deposit of published documents
- ensuring the preservation and cataloguing of, and access to, published documents emanating from, or adapted for, South Africa
- providing for access to government information.

The core functions of the Legal Deposit Committee include:
- advising the Minister on any matter dealt with in this Act
- making recommendations to the Minister concerning any regulations which the Minister may make under this Act
- coordinating the tasks carried out by the places of legal deposit
- advising any place of legal deposit regarding any matter dealt with in this Act.

The places of legal deposit are: the NLSA, the Library of Parliament in Cape Town, the Mangaaung Public Library in Bloemfontein, the Msunduzi/Voortrekker Municipal Library in Pietermaritzburg and the NFVSA in Pretoria.

The Act also provides for the establishment of official publications depositories (OPDs), namely the Constitutional Court Library in Johannesburg, the Phuthaditjhaba Public Library in the Free State, the North West Provincial Library, Information and Archives Service, and the Mpumalanga Library Services.

South African Library for the Blind
The SALB is a statutory organisation located in Grahamstown in the Eastern Cape. Its purpose is to provide, free of charge as far as is reasonably possible, a national LIS to serve blind and partially sighted individuals with in this Act.

The places of legal deposit are: the NLSA, the Library of Parliament in Cape Town, the Manguang Public Library in Bloemfontein, the Msunduzi/Voortrekker Municipal Library in Pietermaritzburg and the NFVSA in Pretoria.

The Act also provides for the establishment of official publications depositories (OPDs), namely the Constitutional Court Library in Johannesburg, the Phuthaditjhaba Public Library in the Free State, the North West Provincial Library, Information and Archives Service, and the Mpumalanga Library Services.

South African Library for the Blind

The SALB is a statutory organisation located in Grahamstown in the Eastern Cape. Its purpose is to provide, free of charge as far as is reasonably possible, a national LIS to serve blind and partially sighted individuals.

The SALB also produces documents in special media such as Braille, audio and tactile formats. It develops standards for the production of such documents and researches production methods and technology in the appropriate fields.

It also acquires, manufactures and disseminates the technology people with visual disabilities use to read. The SALB has five broad objectives, namely to significantly contribute towards:

- helping to build a nation of readers
- assisting the organised blind community
- improving the lives of individuals with print disabilities by meeting their information needs
- helping the State to discharge its cultural mandate, and its obligations to blind and visually impaired people
- assisting Africa’s development by providing advice, expertise and documents in accessible formats for blind people and the institutions that serve their information needs.

The SALB has a membership of about 3 655 people, an audio and Braille collection of more than 25 600 books, and an annual circulation of 133 222 books in Braille or audio format.

To make library services more accessible, the SALB partners 82 public libraries providing accessible reading material and assisting devices.

Blind SA

Blind SA is an organisation of the blind, governed by the blind, and is located in Johannesburg.

It provides services for blind and partially sighted individuals to uplift and empower them by publishing books, magazines and other documents in Braille.

The organisation equips blind people with the skills they need to fully and independently participate in society. This includes support in living without assistance, getting about, using technology, reading, working and socialising. All this is made possible through the organisations’ advocacy, education committee, braille services, orientation and mobility services and employment programme.

It is through this, and the support of its donors, that Blind SA connects South Africans who are blind or visually impaired with the world they live in.

Blind SA provides:

- study bursaries for blind and partially sighted students
- interest-free loans (for adaptive equipment)
- information (including free Braille magazines)
- assistance in finding sustainable employment
- advocacy (to act as a pressure group for disability rights)
- Braille publications at affordable prices in all the official languages
- free Braille training (newly blind people or previously disadvantaged blind people)
- free orientation and mobility training (newly blind people or previously disadvantaged blind people).

International relations

The DAC’s participation in various activities in the international cultural arena helps to identify, promote and exploit mutually beneficial partnerships for social and economic development in South Africa.

Together with the African Union (AU) and the New Partnership for Africa’s Development, South Africa has embarked on the road to restoring, preserving and protecting its African heritage.

The department ensures that South African talent takes its rightful place on the global stage, and uses arts and culture as a tool for economic self-liberation.

Bilateral agreements have been signed with France, the UK, China, Cuba, India, New Zealand and many more.

South Africa ratified the Convention on the Promotion and Protection of Cultural Diversity in 2006, becoming the 35th member country to do so.

In the area of international cooperation on cultural development, the DAC is committed to promoting the African Agenda.

The DAC continues to encourage and support initiatives to promote South African artists on the world stage.

Indigenous music and oral history

The International Library of African Music (ILAM), attached to the Music Department at Rhodes University, is the largest repository of African music in the world. Founded in 1954 by ethnomusicologist Hugh Tracey, ILAM is devoted to the study of music and oral arts in Africa. It preserves thousands of historical recordings, going back to 1929, and supports contemporary fieldwork.

The DAC has entered into partnerships with the universities of Venda, Fort Hare and Zululand to conduct research into indigenous music and instruments, as well as identifying and collecting all aspects of intangible cultural heritage in their provinces.

The department and the African Cultural Heritage Fund promote indigenous music by hosting regional, provincial and national indigenous dance and music competitions.

African World Heritage Fund (AWHF)
The AWHF provides financial and technical support for the conservation and protection of Africa’s natural and cultural heritage of outstanding universal value.

The DAC has entered into partnerships with the universities and other organisations to identify, compile and make available the cultural and natural heritage of Africa.

The department and the African Cultural Heritage Fund promote indigenous music by hosting regional, provincial and national indigenous dance and music competitions.